

Care coordination that frees you to treat your Medicaid patients

Hudson Valley Care is a healthcare organization that offers Health Home care coordination services.

We go into the community and coordinate care for our members where they live and work. For providers, the result is not only reduced risk and cost, but also the ability to concentrate on treating your patient. For our members, our goal is to improve outcomes, reduce hospitalization readmission rates and ED utilization for non-emergency issues.

Who we are

Hudson Valley Care is a coalition of 23 agencies serving six counties. Because of our unique collaborative culture, we effectively utilize our partner agencies' years of experience and deep community knowledge.

With Hudson Valley Care, you can concentrate on conducting physicals, running tests, and actually treating your patient. Your patient will have a designated care manager who will help them get to your office, help them get Medicaid recertified, remind them to take their medication, and provide support in their community.

How we help

Our Health Home is a network of organizations – FQHCs, health plans and community-based providers – that work together to provide members with the individualized care they need. All of our care managers are skilled in working and communicating with our members' entire care teams, so that members' needs are addressed holistically and services are not duplicated.

The care managers build a member-centric individualized care plan to address physical, mental health, substance abuse and social service needs. This care plan also integrates family and caregiver needs, cultural considerations, and addresses health literacy levels, if needed.

Guided by the care plan, we connect our member to services such as transportation, housing, food and education. We work with the member to adhere to treatments and medications as prescribed by doctors and specialists.

Better health, every day

Hudson Valley Care supports your hard work by connecting your patient to key health and social services where they live and work – at no cost to your organization.

When your patient leaves your office, we're here to ensure they are following the treatment prescribed by you.
